Coaching is unlocking a person's potential to maximize their own performance. It is helping them learn rather than teaching them.

- Timothy Gallwey

Personal Reflection

- In what ways have you been coached?
- How was that experience successful or unsuccessful?
- How do you separate learning and teaching?